How do we do it?

We attribute our continued success in delivering projects in logistically complex environments to:

Our Experience of working in live environments – We have worked in the education sector for 20 years and have undertaken over 25 FE/HE projects in the last 5 years alone.

Our Customer Focus – We take pride in the level of understanding we have of our clients needs; Subsequently 90% of our turnover is secured via repeat business.

Client Liaison – Experience has taught us to approach every project as though it were partnered. We continually liaise with stakeholders to gain a full appreciation of their timetable and the needs of the students, staff and visitors to minimise any disruption.

Effective Quality Management – We are quality accredited to ISO:9001 and our procedures ensure that our practice reflects our philosophies – right first time, on time, every time.

Our Calibre of Staff – We employ local, professional people and have a reliable supply chain. Low staff turnover and long-term supplier relations has meant that the knowledge base gained over our previous education projects has remained within the Whitfield and Brown team.

Financial Strength – We have a current Dun & Bradstreet Credit Rating of 1A2 with a Financial Strength scoring of 1A.

Excellent Health & Safety Record – Our directly employed Health, Safety and Environmental Manager ensures we run a safe, secure and considerate site without exception.

Added Value – Whitfield and Brown are committed to being considerate in the environments in which we work. We liaise with our clients to ensure that they gain the most from us being involved with their organisation.
